Client

APRIONIS is a leading healthcare provider with over 10 million clients in France and 692,000 companies covered. APRIONIS has 6,600 employees in France.

Project Drivers

The main drivers for the decommissioning of APRIONIS's IBM Mainframe were:

- Reduce cost of ownership (TCO)
- Free budget to fund new modernization initiatives
- Get rid of mainframe technologies

Key Requirements

The main requirements from APRIONIS for the projects were:

- Have a good Return in Investment for the project (ROI)
- Align target architecture with modern standards
- Minimize project risks
- Make migration transparent to end-users

How Metaware helped

Metaware successfully delivered APRIONIS's IBM migration to AIX. For the fixed time and fixed price engagement, Metaware was in charge of the following:

- Overall project management
- Source components migration using Refine technology
- Automated regression testing

Project Benefits

The main benefits gained from APRIONIS's migration project were:

- Good project Return on Investment (ROI)
- Reduced Total Cost of Ownership (TCO) in the Target environment compared to the Source environment. TCO was reduced by 80%
- Alignment of IT with business need by using modern and agile technologies
